WESTERLY

Thomas F. Lenihan, assistant post-ester, with Postmaster Charles J. mester, with Postmaster Charles J. Sutler and the late Postmaster John A. Farrell, and now acting postmaster, is a candidate for the postmaster-ship at Westerly, and his appointment would receive the approval of perhaps every resident of Westerly, democrats and republicans alike, barring the few men who seek the office as inactive democrats. Mr. Lenihan has served eighteen years in the Westerly post office, and by reason of his experience as assistant postmaster, the businiss would go on uninterruptedly and for the benefit of the patrons of the office and the postal department.

If merit is recognized he surely will receive a deserved promotion, and there is no bar to the appointment from a political standpoint, although by reason of government rules he has taken no active part in politics.

taken no active part in politics.

Mr. Lenihan is expert in accountancy and easily the finest penman in Westerly. He was a member of the old Third regiment, Connecticut National Guard, clerk of Company B, and s a Spanish war veteran. proven his qualification to be post-master, and the appointment of any other person will not be approved by the people of Westerly, democrats or republicans.

Rev. Lawrence J. Kelledy, pastor of the Church of the Immaculate Con-ception, made an address in Wilcox ception, made an address in Wilcox park, Saturday afternoon, in explanation of the United War Workers' campaign, and commented upon the union of all American people, regardless of race or creed, in behalf of the boys who are doing so much for us over there. Hi urged all to give generously in the drive for funus to carry on the great work that is being cone by the allied war workers. He predicted that Westerly's war chest would be filled to overflowing. The address was the close of the big parade, and included in his hearers were the paradors in mass formation before the band stand, as well as hundreds of others, stand, as well as hundreds of others and it was a fitting close to the big
